Some important points about nurses day celebration

Nurses Day is a special day to Honour and celebrate the contributions of nurses all over the world. The day is celebrated on Florence Nightingale's birth anniversary on May 12 every year. Every year, International Nurses Day is marked on May 12 to honour and recognise the efforts of nurses across the globe. The day is commemorated to acknowledge the sacrifices and invaluable contributions that nurses deliver to society by taking care of the sick and weak until they are well again. Nurses are also celebrated for their dedication to medical health and service. Furthermore, this day also observes the birth of Florence Nightingale, who is revered as the 'founder of modern nursing.'

This year, the theme for Nurses Day is “Nurses: A Voice to Lead – Invest in Nursing and respect rights to secure global health.” Florence Nightingale, who is remembered around the world as the “Lady with the Lamp,” took care of wounded soldiers of the British army and their allied forces during the Crimean War. Not only did Florence Nightingale set standards of health care and nursing in the medical camps and hospitals during the war, but later also established Nightingale Training School at St Thomas' Hospital in 1860 to provide training to aspiring nurses and healthcare workers. The special day was chosen by the International Council of Nurses and has been observed officially since 1974. The inspiration behind the day is the iconic

Florence Nightingale, the British nurse and social reformer who dedicated her life to the improvement of the health sector.
